PLC PARTNERS & ORACLE CORPORATION ANNOUNCE PARTNER AGREEMENT

DUBLIN, NOVEMBER 10, 2009: Dublin based Project Life Cycle Partners, a specialist in Large Scale Specialist Banking Sector Project Management solutions, today announced their new Partnership with Oracle Corporation (Nasdaq: ORCL).

Founding Partner, Hugh Neill, said "PLC Partners is delighted to announce our Partner agreement with Oracle. Our company has achieved considerable success in delivering cost effective solutions for our FTSE 100 clients and it's now time to get our message out to a wider global audience. In conjunction with our "Forum: Confidential" initiative our developing partnership with Oracle will accelerate this process."

Co-Founding Partner, Neill McGrory explained "Our staff and associates have vast experience of the Oracle platform. We have large pool of extremely talented, experienced and knowledgeable staff with the capability to rapidly deliver practical, cost effective turnarounds and they now have the opportunity to develop opportunities and deploy solutions based on Oracle's platform"

PLC's Technical Director, Lance Ayerst, added, "Our team have developed Oracle based applications and solutions for some years. Our clients rely on Oracle. However, with the business world currently moving en mass to cloud based SaaS solutions that deliver leading edge technology - while leveraging working capital and cash flow in an efficient way - it's the ideal time to formalize our relationship with Oracle."

Business Development Director Richard Dorman added "Our continuing relationship with Oracle will allow us develop a broader set of solutions for our existing client base and permit us to expand our customer roster. Working in partnership with Oracle will allow us to accelerate the pace of our expansion without compromising the service standards our clients enjoy. In uncertain, gloomy times, Oracle is a bright beacon that points the way forward. We are proud to be an Oracle Partner."
